

IMPORTANT

Remove the glass bowl and the small rubber gasket that is found around the center post. This small gasket must be removed and is not used with the new filter element.

Install the new element by pushing the open end against the center post and then position the rubber gasket over the open end of the glass bowl. Insert the glass bowl up into the casting and pull the wire bail into position and tighten the nut.

200301